Weaving Writing Into Your Day

Ralph Fletcher says, "The secret to writing is: There is no secret."

Are you wondering what other secrets there are to being an effective writing teacher? Do you wonder about the difference between Writer's Workshop and writing in the content areas? Come learn about both; the benefits for students; and ways to fit it all into your day. Get tips for reluctant writers; ways to find grades for writing; and mentor texts that can be used at various grade levels to support writing in your classroom. If you are looking to lift the level of your writing instruction, you won't want to miss this session. Participants will leave with ideas and handouts that can be implemented the next day!
